CHEFS FOR PEACE, a nonprofit organization, was founded in November 2001 to implement events using culinary arts as a strategy to facilitate coexistence between the two peoples.

CHEFS FOR PEACE will join other coexistence organizations in the belief that through continued social, professional and economic involvement, individuals from diverse sectors will develop the communication, mutual understanding and respect to live in peace.

CHEFS FOR PEACE will utilize the interest in food, cooking and professional culinary opportunities to provide experiences between people separated by partisan circumstances.

CHEFS FOR PEACE have chosen to unit in the Holy City of Jerusalem the center of three major monotheistic faiths. The barriers of past hurt, history and national struggle often appear impenetrable. In this Holy City, Jews, Moslems and Christians pass one another daily without common language. No matter how difficult, no matter how long, the process of seeking peace must continue. Without peace there can be no authentic development in our region, no better life for us, no brighter future for our children.

That is why, CHEFS FOR PEACE ask the international community and the leadership representing both sides to move forward politically in the peace process, because the basic lack of trust and mutual respect on a personal level between the people of these faiths poses a fundamental obstacle.

CHEFS FOR PEACE believe that through using the vocabulary of the kitchen, and mutual understanding and practical cooperation, they will try to acknowledge the true one path, and that is PEACE.

Through our mutual understanding, we will unit and show the world that our authentic cuisine can contribute to the peace process. CHEFS FOR PEACE is indifferent to politics, religion or color; our aim is the improvement of human relations.

CHEFS FOR PEACE is ready to perform any event upon request or invitation to all sects of life, being it in the Holy Land or elsewhere in the world.
